

The Cape Bird Club

Nightjar near Wolseley by Holger Rust.

While on a hike near Wolseley in November 2013, we came across something not often seen, and always discussed with no clear answer to the conundrum.

This is how we interpret the proverbial question.

First we made the discovery.....and then the sequence was in front of us.....

- the egg,
- then the bird (nightjar),
- and then the chick.

And now the age old riddle is solved.
